

Shentel Completes Fiber-to-the-Home Upgrade in Buchanan, Virginia

October 6, 2026 at 5:06 AM EDT

EDINBURG, Va., Oct. 06, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Shenandoah Telecommunications Company (Shentel) (Nasdaq: SHEN) today announced the completion of technology upgrades in Buchanan, Virginia, bringing fiber-to-the-home service to the community. The enhanced network delivers symmetrical internet speeds up to 8 Gbps for residential customers and up to 100 Gbps for business customers. Shentel's 100% fiber-optic network is now available to approximately 1,000 homes and businesses in Buchanan and Botetourt County. In addition to high-speed internet service, Shentel also offers a full suite of voice and video services for both residential and business customers.

Existing customers may continue their current plans or upgrade to higher multi-gig speeds by calling 1-800-SHENTEL.

"This upgrade demonstrates our ongoing commitment to investing in the communities we serve and ensuring our network is ready for the future," said Chris Kyle, Vice President of Government and Industry Affairs at Shentel. "Fiber-to-the-home technology creates a strong foundation for continued growth while giving residential and business customers access to faster speeds and an exceptional internet experience."

Shentel takes great pride in several key differentiators compared to our competitors:

- Fiber-to-the-home technology with exceptional reliability
- Multi-gig residential service with symmetrical download and upload speeds up to 8 Gbps
- A full line of business data and voice services with speeds to 100 Gbps
- Local customer service and operations teams dedicated to supporting the communities we serve
